| 080.19 | Adoption of an amended Housing Enforcement Policy to incorporate and updated procedure and policy for the service of a Civil Penalty. | Case law and guidance requires a detailed consideration of all factors in the determination of the level of civil penalty issued for non-compliance. Within the current policy, only the income factor was able to be considered for determining the appropriate level of sanction for selective licensing breaches. Recent case law has highlighted the need to ensure that all factors are taken into account, which have been incorporated by the amendments to the updated policy. This helps to ensure that sanctions are determined fully in accordance with government guidance to reduce legal challenge and to ensure that the offender pays for the cost of housing enforcement rather than the public purse or the many responsible landlords operating in the district. | No | No | 25/09/2019 |
